EMPLOYMENT

ATA Digital, June 2012 – Present

Senior Designer

Work alongside a team of web developers, account executives, and copywriters in a fast-paced environment to plan and execute national digital marketing campaigns that help raise millions of dollars for nonprofits. Design tasks include campaign branding, laying out and mocking up donation landing pages, and creating graphics for emails. The team also designed and built full-scale responsive websites and web apps from the ground up. Assist with the information architecture, user experience, and design for these websites through sitemapping, wireframing, and mocking up designs in Photoshop. Lead the design team and provided project management as needed.

Qorvis Communication, December 2011 – June 2012

Design Division-Intern

Assisting senior designers to create web and print marketing materials for large companies and organizations. Gaining the working experience to effectively communicate with higher leadership and project managers to create and follow a schedule for deliverables.
